Durham Early Head Start Centers Partner with NC State's Natural Learning Initiative to Renovate Playgrounds

Local Child Care Center Hosts Community Open House to Showcase Renovated Outdoor Learning Environment for Infants and Toddlers

Durham, NC – Little People Day Care Center, a high-quality child care center in Durham, is hosting a community open house on Monday, October 24, 2011 to showcase the center's new outdoor learning environment. The playground renovations are part of NC State's Natural Learning Initiative in participation with the Durham Early Head Start (EHS) Program.

Durham EHS is a free, comprehensive child development and family support program for low-income families with children aged birth to three years old and to pregnant women. It is a collaboration between Durham's Partnership for Children, Chapel Hill Training-Outreach Project and Healthy Families Durham.

The newly renovated outdoor learning environment at Little People Day Care Center is one of four planned projects in Durham this fall. The purpose of the Natural Learning Initiative is to promote the importance of the natural environment in the daily experience of all children, primarily through environmental design.

What: Outdoor Learning Environment Open House, Little People Day Care Center

A collaborative project of Durham Early Head Start and NC State's Natural Learning Initiative, the Little People Day Care Center's new outdoor learning environment, which is designed specifically for infants and toddlers, will serve as a model playground for enhanced outdoor play and learning. The outdoor play space can ignite a child's learning and imagination in a way that is difficult to replicate in the classroom. Benefits include obesity prevention, learning from sensory experiences, enhanced school readiness and physical development.

When: Monday, October 24, 2011 from 11:00 am to 1:00 pm

Where: Little People Day Care Center, 1020 S. Miami Blvd. Hwy 70 E. Ste. 117-120, Durham, NC
